

I am writing in comment to the proposed regulations regarding Low Power FM (LPFM). I am an avid supporter of KLOVE radio network. They provide an service of immeasurable benefit which I willing support with my money. Serving in the military, it is nice to be able to hear the same transmission regardless of my location. I ask that any regulations regarding LPFM not interfere with the valuable services offered by such repeater networks as KLOVE.

The programming offered by KLOVE is not offered by any other stations which I can receive in my local area. There segments featuring local concerts and services in my neighborhood are valuable and not offered by anyone else. If KLOVE were to disappear, there would be no one to take their place. Many of the local activities could not afford to pay for airtime.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Richard Jennelle